

European Digital Rights (EDRi) welcomes LIBE's draft Opinion on TiSA. In view of the amendments (AMs) we would like to make recommendations on the amendments that follow under our scope of work.

EDRi encourages MEPs to:

SUPPORT: AMs 3, 8, 13, 14, 19, 22, 24, 26, 33, 35, 36, 38, 48, 49, 50

OPPOSE: AMs 1, 2, 5, 9, 10, 11, 15, 16, 23, 25, 30, 31, 32, 34, 37, 39, 40, 41, 42, 44, 45, 47, 51, 52, 53, 54

A short justification is given below.

Amendment 1 Axel Voss Draft opinion Recital A

0.77.0.07
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
A. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter	A. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter
of Fundamental Rights of the European Union	of Fundamental Rights of the European Union
(the Charter), including Article 8 thereof on the	(the Charter), including Article 8 thereof on the right to the protection of personal data, and by	right to the protection of personal data, and by
Article 16 of the Treaty on the Functioning of	Article 16 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) on the same	the European Union (TFEU) on the same
fundamental right, as a key pillar of EU	fundamental right, as a key pillar of EU
primary law which must be fully respected by	primary law which must be respected by all all international agreements;	international agreements;
	,
Comments: We are surprised MEPs would propose anything other than full respect of a pillar of EU primary law.

Or. de

Amendment 2 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Recital A

Recital A
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
A. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter	A. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter
of Fundamental Rights of the European Union	of Fundamental Rights of the European Union
(the Charter), including Article 8 thereof on the	(the Charter), including Article 8 thereof on the right to the protection of personal data, and by	right to the protection of personal data, and by
Article 16 of the Treaty on the Functioning of	Article 16 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) on the same	the European Union (TFEU) on the same
fundamental right, as a key pillar of EU	fundamental right, as a key pillar of EU
primary law which must be fully respected by	primary law which must be fully respected by all international agreements;	all international agreements; acknowledges
-	that the legal traditions and systems of the United States and the European Union are different, and therefore should pursue agreements based on adequacy and equivalence of the differing systems, rather than a replication of European standards;

Comments: TiSA is not an agreement that only includes the EU and the US. Either an agreement respects the primary law of the European Union or it does not – a system that does not respect European law is not, by definition "adequate".

Or. en

Amendment 3 Louis Michel, Gérard Deprez, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Recital A

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
A. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter	A. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter
of Fundamental Rights of the European Union	of Fundamental Rights of the European Union
(the Charter), including Article 8 thereof on the	(the Charter), including Article 7 thereof right to the protection of personal data, and by	concerning the right to respect for private and Article 16 of the Treaty on the Functioning of	family life and Article 8 thereof on the right to the European Union (TFEU) on the same	the protection of personal data, and by Article fundamental right, as a key pillar of EU	16 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the primary law which must be fully respected by	European Union (TFEU) on the same all international agreements;	fundamental right, as a key pillar of EU
-	primary law which must be fully respected by all international agreements;
Comments: We welcome the reference to Article of 7 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights.

Or. fr

Amendment 4 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion Recital A a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Aa. whereas the Union is bound by the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, including Article 14 concerning the right to education, Articles 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32 and 33 concerning workers' rights, Article 34 concerning the right to social assistance, Article 35 concerning the right to health care, Article 37 concerning the right to environmental protection, and Article 38 concerning the right to protection as consumers. Taking into account that all these are basic rights which cannot be put at stake; Comments: This amendment falls outside EDRi's scope of work. However, we agree in principle that basic rights must be protected.

Or. en

Amendment 5 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Recital A a (new)

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Aa. whereas TISA is intended to create an open and fair level playing field for companies operating overseas; allowing the opening up of markets in order to provide economic growth and jobs for the EU, whereas high data protection standards in the transfer of personal data are important in to ensure trust and further investment in sectors such as digital and telecommunications;

Comments: This amendment only reflects an economic point of view of the importance of data protection standards and leaves out a reference to privacy and data protection as fundamental rights. Personal data should be excluded from the negotiations.

Or. en

Amendment 6 Louis Michel, Gérard Deprez, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Recital C a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Ca. whereas Article 31 of the Charter requires the Union to ensure fair and just working conditions; Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work. However, in principle, we obviously agree that all fundamental rights must be upheld.

Or. fr

Amendment 7 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion Recital D a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Da. whereas Members of the European Parliament depend on leaked documents
	when scrutinizing the negotiations for TiSA;

Comments: The amendment highlights the high degree of secrecy of the negotiations, which is greatly problematic and therefore constitutes a welcome addition. However, the ability to scrutinise the developments must be afforded to everybody, not just to the European Parliament. We thus remain neutral on this amendment, as it is not sufficiently broad.

Or. en

Amendment 8 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Recital D a (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Da. whereas negotiations on the Trade in Services Agreement (TiSA) have been taking place in total secrecy since 2013; welcomes, therefore, the Council decision to declassify
	the TiSA negotiating mandate; takes the view, however, that the Council has not taken into due account the right of citizens to have their personal data protected and expresses concern regarding the possibility that the TiSA might undermine the fundamental rights of citizens as enshrined in the Charter;
Comments: The reference to the high degree of secrecy in the negotiations is welcome as is the Comments: The reference to the high degree of secrecy in the negotiations is welcome, as is the Council's decision to declassify the negotiating mandate. We share the concern for the right of citizens to the protection of their personal data.

Or. it

Amendment 9 Axel Voss Draft opinion Recital E

Accitui E
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amer	ndment
E. whereas ongoing negotiations on	deleted international trade agreements, including the Trade in Services Agreement (TiSA), also touch upon international data flows while excluding privacy and data protection

entirely, which will be discussed in parallel;
Comments: We don't welcome the deletion. Fundamental rights must not be subject to negotiation.

Or. de

Or. it

Amendment 10 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Recital E

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
E. whereas ongoing negotiations on	E. whereas ongoing negotiations on the Trade
international trade agreements, including the	in Services Agreement (TiSA), mainly touch
Trade in Services Agreement (TiSA), also	upon international data flows and data touch upon international data flows while	processing, including personal data;
excluding privacy and data protection
entirely, which will be discussed in parallel;
Comments: The original paragraph clearly excluded data protection and privacy from the scope of the Comments: The original paragraph clearly excluded data protection and privacy from the scope of the negotiations. The amendment just describes the situation.

Amendment 11 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Recital E

Recital E
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
E. whereas ongoing negotiations on	E. whereas the Trade in Services Agreement
international trade agreements, including the	(TiSA), touch upon international data flows
Trade in Services Agreement (TiSA), also	while excluding privacy and data protection touch upon international data flows while	entirely, which will be discussed in parallel;
excluding privacy and data protection entirely,
which will be discussed in parallel;
Comments: We do not understand the goal of the amendment.

Or. en

Amendment 12 Louis Michel, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Gérard Deprez, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Recital E a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Ea. whereas data flows are assuming growing importance for the economy and for international trade and whereas the increase in these flows must have as a corollary a greater effort by the Union to ensure its independence in the digital sphere and to develop cutting-edge expertise in the field of cybersecurity;
Comments: The relevance of this amendment to the matter at hand appears somewhat tenuous. If the Comments: The relevance of this amendment to the matter at hand appears somewhat tenuous. If the intention is to support the exclusion of issues such as encryption standards from the negotiations, we would welcome this.

Or. fr

Amendment 13 Louis Michel, Gérard Deprez, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Recital E b (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Eb. whereas the USA is a party to the negotiations on the future agreement; having regard to the recent judgment of the Court of Justice declaring the European Commission's decision on Safe Harbour invalid;

Comments: This amendment describes the current situation.

Or. fr

Amendment 14 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Recital F

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
F. whereas the draft US text on e-commerce for	F. whereas the draft US text on e-commerce for the TiSA would undermine EU rules and	the TiSA would undermine EU rules and safeguards for the transfer of personal data to	safeguards for the transfer of personal data to third countries; whereas Parliament reserves	third countries, exposing the privacy and the right to express its opinion after consulting	security of information to serious risks;
any future text proposals and drafts of the TiSA	whereas Parliament reserves the right to agreement;	express its opinion after consulting any future
	text proposals and drafts of the TiSA
	agreement;
Comments: This provides greater detail to the risks the US proposal would cause to the privacy and Comments: This provides greater detail to the risks the US proposal would cause to the privacy and security of personal data.

Or. it

Amendment 15 Axel Voss Draft opinion Recital F

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
F. whereas the draft US text on e-commerce	F. whereas, pursuant to Article 218(6) TFEU, for the TiSA would undermine EU rules and	the European Parliament is to deliver an safeguards for the transfer of personal data	opinion on the TiSA agreement and on other to third countries; whereas Parliament	agreements between the Union and third reserves the right to express its opinion after	countries;
consulting any future text proposals and drafts of the TiSA agreement;
Comments: It is not acceptable to substitute an important point of the opinion with a reference to

Comments: It is not acceptable to substitute an important point of the opinion with a reference to procedural aspects of the negotiations.

Or. de

Amendment 16 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Recital F

NCCITAL I
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
F. whereas the draft US text on e-commerce	F. whereas it is important that the EU and the
for the TiSA would undermine EU rules and	US reach a compromise regarding the transfer safeguards for the transfer of personal data to	of personal data to third countries which fully third countries; whereas Parliament reserves	respects the privacy and protection of the right to express its opinion after consulting	personal data; whereas Parliament reserves the any future text proposals and drafts of the TiSA	right to express its opinion after consulting any agreement;	future text proposals and drafts of the TiSA
	agreement;
Comments: This amendment weakens the wording used in the draft opinion. The CJEU has issued its ruling and it is not in the gift of the Commission to 'compromise' it away.

Or. en

Amendment 17
Marina Albiol Guzmán
Draft opinion
Recital F a (new)

Recital F a (new)
NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Fa. whereas some of the parties participating in the TiSA negotiations have not ratified the conventions of the International Labour Organization; Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.

Or. en

Amendment 18 Monika Hohlmeier, Axel Voss, Anna Maria Corazza Bildt Draft opinion Recital F a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Fa. whereas TiSA is an opportunity for the EU to consolidate its position as the world leader in the field, with 24 % of global trade in services;
Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.	·

Or. en

Amendment 19 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Recital F a (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Fa. whereas the judgment of the European Court of Justice in the Safe Harbour case C-362/14 will have an impact on international agreements on the transfer of personal data;
Comments: We welcome the reference to the CJEU's landmark case Schrems v Data Protection Commissioner. Its impact on data transfers is of utmost importance.

Or. it

Amendment 20 Louis Michel, Gérard Deprez, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Recital F a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Fa. whereas TiSA will entail movements of natural persons and whereas in this context all European citizens should be treated equally as regards access to the territory of the other parties to the agreement;
Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.	ine one puries to me agreement,

Or. fr

Amendment 21 Monika Hohlmeier, Axel Voss, Anna Maria Corazza Bildt Draft opinion Recital F b (new)

Recital F b (new)
NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
, ,	Fb. whereas non-tariff barriers, which on average represent more than 50 % of the cost of cross-border services, disproportionately affect small and medium-sized enterprises, which often lack the human and financial resources necessary to overcome those obstacles; whereas the elimination of unnecessary barriers would facilitate their internationalisation;
Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.

Or. en

Amendment 22 Louis Michel, Gérard Deprez, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Recital F b (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	Fb. whereas the European Parliament will have the power to approve or reject the final agreement;

Or. fr

Amendment 23 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point a

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(a) to ensure that the agreement guarantees	deleted full respect for EU fundamental rights standards through the inclusion of a legally binding and suspensive human rights clause as a standard part of EU trade agreements with third countries;
Comments: We don't need to explain why this amendment is objectionable.

Or. en

Amendment 24 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point a

Paragraph 1 – point a	ACDT
SUPP
V 1
(a) to ensure that the agreement guarantees full respect for EU fundamental rights standards through the inclusion of a legally binding and suspensive human rights clause as a standard part of EU trade agreements with third countries;	(a) to ensure that the agreement guarantees full respect for EU fundamental rights standards through the inclusion of a legally binding and suspensive human rights clause as a standard part of EU trade agreements with third countries which must include: - Confirmation of states obligations under the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other relevant international human rights instruments including, but not limited to, the European Convention on Human Rights and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights; - Assurance that state parties will interpret the provisions in the agreement in accordance with international human rights law; - Assurance that none of the obligations which may arising from the agreement will have the effect of modifying the obligations to respect, protect, and fulfil fundamental rights in the EU; - An exception permitting parties to suspend their obligations arising from the agreement if there are grounds to believe that it will result in a breach of fundamental rights; - A mechanism putting forward periodic human rights impact assessments to be conducted jointly by a designated committee of the US Congress and the European Parliament;

of national courts in order to initiate an investigation by the designated authority into human rights disputes arising under the agreement;
- Procedures to ensure that citizens have equality before the law;
- Assurance that the Parties to the agreement will not in any way whatsoever relatively privilege their own citizens, or otherwise discriminate against non-citizens, merely according to their citizenship status in any matter affected by this agreement, concerning public order, national security, crime or grounds of important public interest; such as internationally recognised labour standards, environment or public health and education standards;
·
- An accessible mechanism to impose sanctions when fundamental rights and standards are abused;

Comments: This amendment provides meaning to what human right clauses should look like.

Or. en

Amendment 25 Monika Hohlmeier, Axel Voss, Anna Maria Corazza Bildt Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point a

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(a) to ensure that the agreement guarantees full	(a) to ensure that the agreement guarantees full respect for EU fundamental rights standards	respect for EU fundamental rights standards;
through the inclusion of a legally binding and suspensive human rights clause as a standard part of EU trade agreements with third countries;
Comments: Saying that human rights should be respected does not mean much unless it is a binding obligation. This amendment deletes they key phrase of point a.

Or. en

Amendment 26 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point a a (new) raragraph r point a a (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(aa) Expresses serious concern over the draft TiSA agreement, which would seriously undermine all the Union's provisions and safeguards concerning the protection and transfer to third countries of the personal data of its citizens;
Comments: The leaks and public documents show enough reasons to have concerns about the respect of EU data protection legislation.

Or. it

Amendment 27 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point a a (new)
NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(aa) to oppose TiSA because of the consequences it will have on European standards of services such as health care, education or social assistance, which could stop being fundamental rights and become another market niche in the hands of multinational corporations, undermining the civil liberties of European citizens;

Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.

Or. en

Amendment 28 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point a b (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(ab) to oppose TiSA because of its consequences on workers' rights, undermining European standards of labour protection and making workers loose the protection by the justice system they enjoy today;
Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.	*

Or. en

Amendment 29 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point a c (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(ac) to request Member States to hold binding referenda about the Agreement before it is passed;
Comments: It falls outside EDRi's scope of work.

Or. en

Amendment 30 Axel Voss Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point b

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(b) to incorporate, as a key priority, a	(b) Recalls that Article XIV of the General comprehensive and unambiguous horizontal	Agreement on Trade and Services (GATS)
self-standing provision, based on Article XIV	clearly refers to privacy and the protection of
of the General Agreement on Trade in Services	personal data as an exception which cannot be (GATS), that fully exempts the existing and	considered a trade barrier; stresses that EU future EU legal framework for the protection	data protection legislation cannot be deemed of personal data from the agreement, without	to constitute 'arbitrary or unjustifiable
any condition that it must be consistent with	discrimination' in the application of Article
other parts of the TiSA, and to ensure that the	XIV of the GATS;
agreement does not preclude the enforcement of exceptions for the supply of services which are justifiable under the relevant World Trade Organisation rules (Articles XIV and XIVbis
of the GATS);
Comments: There is a need for a self-standing clause, which is exactly what the European Parliament asked in its Resolution on TTIP. Why would the Parliament now change its view in TiSA?

Or. de

Amendment 31 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point b

1 at agraph 1 – point b
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(b) to incorporate, as a key priority, a	(b) to incorporate, as a key priority, in the core comprehensive and unambiguous horizontal self-standing provision, based on Article XIV of the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS), that fully exempts the existing and future EU legal framework for the protection of personal data from the agreement, without any condition that it must be consistent with other parts of the TiSA, and to ensure that the agreement does not preclude the enforcement of exceptions for the supply of services which are justifiable under the relevant World Trade Organisation rules (Articles XIV and XIV*bis* of the GATS);

text of TiSA, an exemption, notwithstanding any other part of the agreement, allowing for the protection of the privacy of individuals in relation to the processing and dissemination of personal data and the protection of confidentiality of individual records and accounts, and to ensure that the agreement does not preclude the enforcement of exceptions for the supply of services which are justifiable under the relevant World Trade Organisation rules (Articles XIV and XIVa of the GATS);

Comments: This amendment is not as negative as AM 30, but the amendment narrows' the scope of the original paragraph, as the exception would only cover TiSA's core text and not the sectoral chapters. Considering data protection is on the table of negotiations in the financial services, e-commerce and telecommunications chapter, this is unacceptable.

Or. en

Amendment 32 Monika Hohlmeier, Anna Maria Corazza Bildt Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point b

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(b) to incorporate, as a key priority, a	(b) to incorporate a horizontal self-standing comprehensive and unambiguous horizontal	provision, based on Article XIV of the General self-standing provision, based on Article XIV	Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS), that of the General Agreement on Trade in Services	exempts the existing and future EU legal (GATS), that fully exempts the existing and	framework for the protection of personal data future EU legal framework for the protection	from the agreement and to ensure that the
of personal data from the agreement, without	agreement does not preclude the enforcement any condition that it must be consistent with	of exceptions for the supply of services which other parts of the TiSA, and to ensure that the	are justifiable under the relevant World Trade agreement does not preclude the enforcement	Organisation rules (Articles XIV and XIVa of
of exceptions for the supply of services which	the GATS);
are justifiable under the relevant World Trade Organisation rules (Articles XIV and XIV bis
of the GATS);
Comments: This amendment eliminates one of the key elements of the original paragraph (second deletion), which would create a loophole in the exception deletion), which would create a loophole in the exception.

Or. en

Amendment 33 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point b a (new)

	J PPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
 	(ba) to incorporate a clause to the Agreement which clearly forbids the use of personal data gathered by public services or institutions for commercial or marketing purposes, as well as forbidding the transfer of personal data gathered by the State and its institutions to private companies;

Or. en

Amendment 34 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point c

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(c) to ensure that personal data can be	(c) to ensure that personal data can be transferred outside the Union only if the	transferred outside the Union so long as provisions on third-country transfers in EU	equivalent EU data protection standards are data protection laws are complied with; to	provided for under an international negotiate on provisions which touch upon the	agreement or mechanism; flow of personal data only if the full application of EU data protection rules is guaranteed and respected;
Comments: The original text is significantly clearer and more comprehensive.

Amendment 35

Or. en

Aldo Patriciello Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point c

Draft opinion	PPORT Amendment
(c) to ensure that personal data can be	(c) to ensure that personal data can be transferred outside the Union only if the	transferred outside the Union only if the provisions on third-country transfers in EU	provisions on third-country transfers in EU data protection laws are complied with; to	data protection laws are complied with; to negotiate on provisions which touch upon the	negotiate on provisions which touch upon the flow of personal data only if the full	flow of personal data only if the full application of EU data protection rules is	application of EU data protection rules is guaranteed and respected;	guaranteed and respected; to make provision for a specific oversight and penalty mechanism in the event of any infringement of EU rules;

Or. it

Amendment 36 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point c

	SUPPO	RT
Draft opinion
(c) to ensure that personal data can	n be	(c)
transferred outside the Union only	y if the	tra
provisions on third-country trans	fers in EU	ca
data protection laws are complied	with; to	da negotiate on provisions which tou	ich upon the	po
flow of personal data only if the f	full	pr
application of EU data protection	rules is	rei
guaranteed and respected;		co
		mi
		the

Amendment (c) to ensure that negotiations concerning the transfer of personal data outside the Union can continue only if full compliance with EU data protection legislation is guaranteed; points out that personal data may be processed only in Europe and that all rules relating to the transfer of that data to third countries are exceptions to that principle and must meet certain conditions; in particular, the third country must ensure an appropriate level of protection and ensure that EU citizens have the same opportunities to appeal and the same procedural rights as citizens of that third country in the event of any unlawful use of their personal data;

Comments: Data transfers must be compliant with EU law. The original is also acceptable.

Or. it

Amendment 37 Eleftherios Synadinos Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point c

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(c) to ensure that personal data can be	(c) to ensure that personal data can be transferred outside the Union only if the provisions on third-country transfers in EU data protection laws are complied with; to negotiate on provisions which touch upon the flow of personal data only if the full application of EU data protection rules is guaranteed and respected;

transferred outside the Union only if the provisions on third-country transfers in EU data protection laws are complied with; to negotiate on provisions which touch upon the flow of personal data only if the full application of EU data protection rules is guaranteed and respected, in accordance with the Council of Europe Convention of 28 January 1981 for the Protection of Individuals with regard to Automatic Processing of Personal Data and the relevant case law established further to Article 8 of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms;

Comments: The added text brings no additional clarity.

Or. el

Amendment 38 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point c a (new) rangraph r point e a (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(ca) to oppose any attempt to limit the powers of European and national supervisory bodies which protect personal data;
Comments: Enforcement is important.

Or. it

Amendment 39 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point c b (new)

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(cb) to assess the appropriate tools for ensuring that EU citizens have a 'right to be forgotten' even if their personal data is transferred to third countries;
Comments: It is not at all clear what "a" right to be forgotten" might mean.

Or. it

Amendment 40 Axel Voss Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point d

- W - W - W - W - W - W - W - W - W - W
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(d) to oppose the provisions with regard to the	deleted
protection of personal data in the US draft
TiSA chapter on e-commerce;
Comments: The US proposal is not compatible with EU law. This statement is similar to the one made by the LIBE Committee in TTIP. The Parliament should be consistent.

Or. de

Amendment 41 Timothy Kirkhope Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point d

raragraph 1 – point d
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(d) to oppose the provisions with regard to the	deleted
protection of personal data in the US draft
TiSA chapter on e-commerce;
Comments: The US proposal is not compatible with EU law. This statement is similar to the one made by the LIBE Committee in TTIP. The Parliament should be consistent.

Or. en

Amendment 42 Anna Maria Corazza Bildt, Monika Hohlmeier Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point d

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(d) to oppose the provisions with regard to the	(d) to stress that the provisions with regard to protection of personal data in the US draft	the protection of personal data in the US draft
TiSA chapter on e-commerce;	TiSA chapter on e-commerce should be
•	improved in order to meet the EU standards
	on data protection;
Comments: This amendment does not use bad wording per se , but the original wording is stronger.

Or. en

Amendment 43 Louis Michel, Gérard Deprez, Maite Pagazaurtundúa Ruiz, Sophia in 't Veld Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point d a (new)

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(da) to implement the recommendations of the European Parliament formulated in its resolution of 12 March 2014 concerning European independence in the fields of IT and cybersecurity in order to ensure optimal security of data flows:

Comments: The relevance of this amendment is not obvious.

Or. fr

Amendment 44
Axel Voss
Draft opinion
Paragraph 1 – point e

CPPOSE Draft opinion (e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to insist that any requirements for the localisation of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data protection standards around the world; (e) to keep in mind that, under EU rules on the transfer of personal data, the processing of such data in third countries is permitted only if the agreements there concerning the processing of personal data meet the EU adequacy standard; adequacy standard;
(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to insist that any requirements for the localisation of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data (e) to keep in mind that, under EU rules on the transfer of personal data, the processing of such data in third countries is permitted only if the agreements there concerning the processing of personal data meet the EU adequacy standard;	OPPOSE
transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to insist that any requirements for the localisation of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data transfer of personal data, the processing of such data in third countries is permitted only if the agreements there concerning the processing of personal data meet the EU adequacy standard;	Draft opinion	Amendment
view to adopting adequate high data	(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to insist that any requirements for the localisation of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third	(e) to keep in mind that, under EU rules on the transfer of personal data, the processing of such data in third countries is permitted only if the agreements there concerning the processing of personal data meet the EU
	11 1
O . TO

Comments: The use of "only if" makes the amendment untrue from an EU law perspective. There are other mechanisms to transfer data to third countries. In addition, Data localisation (processing or storage) should not be banned within the EU, especially not after the Snowden revelations. Some countries like Germany already have rules on data localisation. We recognise that, as with most things, data localisation can be abused but, as with most things, this does not automatically mean that it should be prohibited.

Or. de

Amendment 45
Timothy Kirkhope
Draft opinion
Paragraph 1 – point e

i ai agi apii i – point e
OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the	(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the transfer of personal data may prohibit the	transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to insist that any requirements for the localisation of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data protection standards around the world;

processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data protection standards around the world;

Comments: Data localisation (processing or storage) should not be banned within the EU, especially not after the Snowden revelations. Some countries like Germany already have rules on data localisation. We recognise that, as with most things, data localisation can be abused but, as with most things, this does not automatically mean that it should be prohibited.

Or. en

Amendment 46 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point e

NO POSITION
Draft opinion	Amendment
(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the	(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the transfer of personal data may prohibit the	transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if	processing of such data in third countries
they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to	which do not meet the EU adequacy standard;
insist that any requirements for the localisation	to insist that any requirements for the
of data processing equipment and	localisation of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data	establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third countries in	transfers; to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting	the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data protection standards around	adequate high data protection standards around the world;	the world;
Comments: The amendment does not substantially change the meaning of the original draft.

Or. it

Amendment 47 Eleftherios Synadinos Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point e

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the	(e) to keep in mind that EU rules on the transfer of personal data may prohibit the	transfer of personal data may prohibit the processing of such data in third countries if	processing of such data in third countries if they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to	they do not meet the EU adequacy standard; to insist that any requirements for the localisation	insist that any requirements for the localisation of data processing equipment and	of data processing equipment and establishments be in line with EU rules on data	establishments be in line with EU rules on data transfers; to cooperate with third countries in	transfers, to ensure the creation of the appropriate settings with a view to adopting	appropriate supervisory authorities and the adequate high data protection standards around	establishment of central data access points
the world;	and to cooperate with third countries in the appropriate settings with a view to adopting adequate high data protection standards around the world;
Comments: While independent regulatory outhorities for data protection are an important element of Comments: While independent regulatory authorities for data protection are an important element of data protection, TiSA is not the place to regulate the creation of other supervisory authorities or central data access points.

Amendment 48
Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao
Draft opinion
Paragraph 1 – point e a (new)

Or. el

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(ea) to ensure that personal data transferred to third countries are deleted after a certain amount of time;
Comments: We support this amendment insofar as data should be processed and stored no longer than necessary for the purpose of which they are collected.

Or. it

Amendment 49 Laura Agea, Laura Ferrara, Ignazio Corrao Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point e b (new)

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
	(eb) to ensure compliance with Member States' provisions concerning the protection of personal data if they offer a level of protection that is higher than that provided by EU legislation;
Comments: Insofar as this issue could arise	e after the adoption of the Regulation, we support it.

Or. it

Amendment 50 Marina Albiol Guzmán Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point f

SUPPORT
Draft opinion	Amendment
(f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to	(f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; be accountable to the European Parliament and its committees and to hold binding votes for every relevant step in the negotiation of the agreement; to ensure public access to all negotiation documents from all parties; to involve social organizations, unions and human rights organizations in the negotiation of the agreement in order to strengthen a real dialogue with society as a whole; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents.
official documents.
² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council,	² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council,
judgment of 24 June 2014.	judgment of 24 June 2014.
³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43.	³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43.
Comments: The amendment proposes stronger language, but is not objectionable. The original text is also acceptable

Or. en

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(f) to show full regard for the need for	(f) Recalls the need for transparency in the transparency and accountability in the	negotiations throughout the entire process; negotiations throughout the entire process, and	reminds the Commission of its obligation to to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10)	keep Parliament fully informed on an TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling	immediate basis at all stages of the
	_
confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to	negotiations; points out, further , that the keep Parliament fully informed on an	agreement should in no way weaken the laws immediate basis at all stages of the	of the EU or the Member States on public negotiations; to ensure public access to	access to official documents; relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents.
² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council,	² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council,
judgment of 24 June 2014.	judgment of 24 June 2014.
³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43.	³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43.
Comments: This amendment weakens the wording used in the Draft Opinion and removes inter alia the reference to the legal basis for access to documents.

Or. de

Amendment 52 Monika Hohlmeier Draft opinion Paragraph 1 – point f

OPPOSE
Draft opinion	Amendment
(f) to show full regard for the need for	(f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the	transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and	negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10)	to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10)
TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling	TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to	confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an	keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the	immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to	negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all	relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are	parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a	to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification	case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed	of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to	parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the	specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line	interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the	with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30	European Parliament and of the Council of 30
May 2001 regarding public access to European	May 2001 regarding public access to European

Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents.	Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ;
² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. ³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43.	² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. ³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43.

Or. en

Amendment 53
Eleftherios Synadinos
Draft opinion
Paragraph 1 – point f

(f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. OPPOSE (f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiations; to ensure public access to the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. OLIVITY OF TOWN OF TOWN OF TOWN O	Paragraph 1 – point f
(f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character², to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. (f) to show full regard for the need for transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character², to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access	OPPOSE transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character², to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents²; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Transparency and accountability in the negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TreEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character², to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TreEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character², to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament, Council and Commission documents² and Article 42 TrEU negotiations throughout the entire process, and to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character², to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10) TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. TEEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to official documents. Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. TFEU, which a recent Court of Justice ruling confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	negotiations throughout the entire process, and	negotiations throughout the entire process, and confirmed as being of statutory character ² , to keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10)	to fulfil its obligation under Article 218(10)
keep Parliament fully informed on an immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of immediate basis at all stages of the negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ² ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	, negotiations; to ensure public access to relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. a Case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of relevant negotiation documents from all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament of 24 June 2014. To all parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents.
parties, with the exception of those which are to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents of access to documents of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents.
to be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. The be classified with clear justification on a case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. The control of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. The control of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents.
case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. Case-by-case basis, with a public justification of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents.
of the extent to which access to the undisclosed parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of parts of the document in question is likely to specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. Parliament v Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents.
specifically and actually undermine the interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents in interests protected by the exceptions, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	1 1 with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of European Parliament and of the Council of 30 May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. May 2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. Parliament, Council and Commission documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents.
documents ³ ; to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents and Article 42 TFEU concerning the right of access to documents. documents ³ and Article 42 TFEU concerning that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. The right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. The right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. The right of access to documents The right of access to documents, to ensure that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. The right of access to documents
Member States on public access to official documents. that the agreement in no way weakens the laws of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	documents'; to ensure that the agreement in no	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · documents. of the EU or of its Member States on public access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of access to official documents. 2 Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. 3 OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of ² Case C-658/11 Parliament v Council, judgment of 24 June 2014. ³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	documents.
judgment of 24 June 2014. judgment of 24 June 2014. OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of		access to official documents.
judgment of 24 June 2014. judgment of 24 June 2014. OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	² Case C-658/11 Parliament y Council	² Case C-658/11 Parliament y Council
³ OJ L 145, 31.5.2001, p. 43. Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Comments: While the intention is welcome, the right of access to documents is laid out in Article 42 of

Or. el

Amendment 54 Monika Hohlmeier, Axel Voss, Anna Maria Corazza Bildt Draft opinion

Paragraph 1 – point f a (new)

OPPOSE

Draft opinion

Amendment

(fa) to welcome the substantial push for transparency vis-à-vis the public since the 2014 European elections, including the publication of EU market access offers and the mandate granted by the Council;

Comments: The push for transparency is a step forward, but not a substantial change.

Or. en